

Olympian Composite Rope

Last Updated Friday, 03 October 2008

Olympian is a composite rope constructed using high tenacity filament polyester fiber veneered over a co-polymer olefin core. This combination results in higher strength than many other composite/combination ropes, superior abrasion resistance, low elongation and a reduced weight compared to an all polyester rope.

Applications - Vertical life lines, lock lines, hand lines, rigging lines